DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings were received on 09/13/2005. These drawings are not acceptable.

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the apparatus to manufacture a glass plate (claim 11) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Becker (6,297,482) in view of Vilato et al (6,120,282). Becker discloses a glass-ceramic plate 15 of one-piece construction having at least one opening in the center thereof having a complex or polygonal shape 36 having a grill (see figure 2) that forms a mesh for a suction hood for the extraction of cooking gases having cooking and/or high temperature maintaining devices 30-34. However Becker does not disclose a bent upward portion formed around the opening or an apparatus for making it. Vilato et al teaches making a bent upward portion 6 and 6' (see figure 1a and 1b) in a ceramic plate and apparatus for doing so (see figure 2) in the same field of invention for the purpose of "is reliably protected from mechanical shocks and is sealed with respect to liquids" (C: 4, L: 29-30). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to bend the edges of the opening in Becker upward using the apparatus disclosed by Vilato et al in order to prevent liquids from spilling into the opening for the suction hood and damaging the fan and motor. Regarding claims 8 and 9, these process claims are dependent upon a product claim making them hybrid product by process claims, which are given little patentable weight. At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to make the opening have a dimension greater than 10 cm, make the opening 35 cm from the edge of the ceramic plate, or locating the opening at least 35 mm from each heating area of the plate because Applicant has not disclosed that making the opening have a dimension greater than 10 cm, making the opening 35 cm from the edge of the ceramic plate, or locating the opening at least 35 mm from each heating area of the plate provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with the opening having the length and location it has because it is long enough and located close enough to the heating areas to perform the stated function. Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify Becker to obtain the invention as specified in claim 1, 3, and 15.

Response to Arguments

In response to applicant's argument that Becker failed to disclose each and every feature in claim 1, the original claim 1 claimed "a local deformation of the plate" (L: 2-3) not as it currently does a "bent portion of said plate". The word deformation could be construed to be as broad as the opening itself.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
